Workshop Details The goal of this workshop is to make living shorelines permitting more approachable to a wider audience, not just experts. It is open to anyone with a basic knowledge of living shorelines who needs support with permitting, including consultants, homeowners, HOA officials, contractors, environmental managers, city/county staff, parks staff, and landscape professionals.

Offered free of charge through a Gulf of Mexico Sea Grant (TX, LA, MS, AL, FL) partnership and Gulf of Mexico Alliance-funded project "Understanding and Navigating Living Shorelines Permitting"

Locations Hosted in-person across seven locations simultaneously through a partnership between UF/Florida Sea Grant and the National Estuarine Research Reserve (NERR) system. Each satellite location will offer additional location-specific details during/after the main broadcast.

Instructors Presentations will be offered from UF/Florida Sea Grant, Florida Department of Environmental Protection, US Army Corps of Engineers, and other local permitting experts.
